Before starting with the list of my wonderful adventures in New York, I would like to say Thank you to David and Pam, Erol and to whom had made it possible once more.

Travelling to New York for a week has been one of my dearest trips until now; with the purpose of the 2016 CHANGE THE WORLD MODEL UNITED NATIONS Conference. This event, from March 18th to 20th, held in the renowned United Nations Headquarters has played an important role in my lifetime. I have met awesome people and built some good relationship and even started working on a project idea. I have had a smooth and successful experience conference, engaging myself in substantive debate. In fact, I had the opportunity to walk amongst the footsteps of countless leaders who have defined the political, economic, and social aspects of our world. Coming to this fifth annual CWMUN Conference had been a tremendous opportunity for me to hone my model UN skills.

We have landed in the JFK Airport on March 14th and hosted for a two-day stay by a collaborator and friend Evan, in Brooklyn. We have also visited some interesting places.

The most amazing part of the visit was when I had to see my dear grandma. We got separated when I was 9. She was looking at me and noticing how tall I am.

I have discovered a lot through this conference. There was such a wonderful feeling of being in a parliament, voting, proposing solutions and engaging in discussions, while being the delegate representing Yemen.

We were about four members from the Rotaract Club of Port-au-Prince participating.

This was so awesome sharing with those people from all over the world. I deeply appreciated the committee's work. Picture taken with two of the Dais Members.

It was unbelievable seeing the huge screens of New York and its beautiful places. By the way, we even met some Dominican friends at a Mexican Bar Grill.
