Consignment Details:

Store associate will determine prices on consigned items. When an item is sold, the consigner receives either 55% of the selling price as store "trade" for other items in our store or 45% of the listed price in a check.

Consigner attests to the authenticity of all consigned items, and has not knowingly requested the resale of counterfeit goods. Items found to be counterfeits will either be returned to consigner for a $20 per item handling fee or discarded. Furthermore, consigner attests that they are in legal possession of all items that are being consigned at Urban Exchange.

We do our best to protect your items, but we are not responsible for loss or damage to any item for any reason, including theft or fire.

Markdowns:

Revisions of the asking price may be made at the store's discretion without notifying the consigner. Items unsold at the end of 60 days will be marked down or donated. You can reclaim items up to 60 days of the intake date. When reclaiming items, you must find items in the store and take them to associate for verification and to remove them from inventory. Any items left after the 60 day period shall be reduced or donated. If the item is priced over $50, Urban Exchange will notify consigner and hold item for one week beyond expiration date.

It is your responsibility to eliminate any items with visible defects or stains before consigning them. We reserve the right to donate or mark down any items found to have noticeable stains, defects, chips or flaws or any item that have been recalled.
